

The Surfing Cowboy

The Central Coast surfer is different than your typical tan, blond hair waterman.

We have a wesuit tan on top of our farmer's tan.

We wear jeans and boots everywhere.

We hang up our hats before we hang ten.

And lastly, we are always searching for that next wave along our endless coastline.

THE LIFE OF A CENTRAL COAST SURFER

This company was created for only one reason: to represent the central coast surfer. We don't have crowded and polluted beaches like Southern California. We embrace our wildlife, chilling winters, and variety of waves. We have a unique landscape with mountains scattered with cows and oceans filled with otters. Central Coast surfers are defined as explorers, wanderers, daredevils, and most of all stoked!
